Cost of Attendance and Federal Direct PLUS Loan Calculation

You can view the Cost of Attendance estimate for the current academic year on your self-service page. For comparison purposes, please note that your estimated total cost of attendance is $66,774.00. This includes an estimate for tuition and required fees, room/board, books, personal allowance, transportation allowance, and loan fees. Please visit our website, <http://sfs.virginia.edu> for more detailed information, answers to commonly-asked questions and to understand the next steps in the financial aid process.

For Undergraduate Students

In addition to the student loans that have been offered to you, a parent of a dependent student may also be eligible to apply for a Federal Direct Parent PLUS loan. The maximum amount that your parent may request for a Federal Direct PLUS is the Cost of Attendance minus any other financial aid awards. Eligibility for the Federal Direct PLUS depends on a modest credit check that determines whether the parent borrower has an adverse credit history. You can find out more about PLUS loans at <http://sfs.virginia.edu/undergrad/loans2018>.

For Graduate Students

Please visit the Student Financial Services website at <http://sfs.virginia.edu/grad/loans2018> to learn more about Direct Graduate PLUS Loans, in the event that you did not originally request them as part of your financial aid award.

This award is subject to the following conditions:

- It is your responsibility to immediately notify Student Financial Services of any changes in either your living or dependency or marital status that might affect your aid package.
- The University may adjust your financial aid package to reflect changes to your personal or financial circumstances or as new financial resources become available. If SFS becomes aware of additional information after you receive your official award, your award may be revised accordingly. Visit <http://sfs.virginia.edu/need/impacts> and <http://sfs.virginia.edu/scholarships> for more information.

- Unless your award offer states otherwise, this offer is based on full-time enrollment. If your registration status changes at any time, it may affect your aid package.
- All appropriate federal and state regulations are followed.
- The actual amount of your estimated federal and state aid is contingent on federal and state budget allocations.
- You may accept or decline your individual awards, including any loans you are offered. Grants and scholarships are automatically accepted on your behalf. If you are accepting Federal Direct Loans (Subsidized or Unsubsidized) for the first time, you must complete Entrance Counseling and a Master Promissory Note (MPN) by going to studentloans.gov and logging in. Your awards will not disburse to your account until you take these steps. If you have accepted your Perkins or Nursing Loan, go to <https://www.ecsi.net/promw28> at your earliest opportunity to complete your MPN and Entrance Counseling for those loans.
